Me Louis Coallier is a versatile litigator practicing mainly in general commercial, administrative and defamation litigation, as well as in disciplinary law.

Prior to joining DHC Avocats, Me Coallier spent the majority of his career practicing within large and national firms.

Me Coallier pleads frequently before the courts, both civil and administrative. He establishes a genuine partnership with his clients founded on respect and confidence. When circumstances permit, he generally seeks an innovative and original approach in order to ensure a swift and satisfactory settlement.

Over the last ten (10) years, Me Coallier has successfully pleaded a number of cases in commercial litigation, administrative law and disciplinary law for a diversified clientele composed of small and medium-sized enterprises.
